Additional Conditions and Provisions for All PSAC Trip Participants

Cancellation Policy: As a Trip Participant, I understand that if I cancel from this trip after the dates indicated on this form, I may lose all my deposits unless I can find an acceptable replacement, in which case I'll only be liable for the indicated non-refundable amounts plus any penalties associated with the re-issuing of my airline ticket. If no replacement can be found, I'll be liable for all non-recoverable costs, up to the full price of the trip. All cancellation requests must be in writing. An e-mail message to this effect, with a confirmation reply from PSAC, is acceptable. Should PSAC cancel the trip, I will be entitled to recover all payments made by me except under circumstances further explained below.

Trip Insurance: A minimum coverage for Medical Emergencies is required for these trips and is included in the trip's price. Moreover, comprehensive trip cancellation and trip interruption coverage is strongly recommended. PSAC will provide Trip Insurance coverage options through a 3rd party, but participants may obtain such coverage through an agent of their choice. In the latter case, proof of coverage will be required by PSAC before trip date.

PSAC Liabilities: PSAC is not responsible nor liable for the acts or absence thereof by any 3rd party agent over which it has no authority or control, including but not limited to airlines, lodgings, buses and all other providers of goods and services for its trips. Likewise it is not responsible for any acts of nature, government actions or civil disturbances, which may prevent the delivery of goods or services contracted for under this trip agreement. PSAC will do its best to restore such goods or services through its agents as soon as possible, but is not liable for any losses by travelers except where it has been proven negligent in providing for such goods or services.

Travelers' Responsibilities and Liabilities: Travelers, or trip participants, are responsible for honoring all stated payments schedule and satisfying all other obligations on time, including but not limited to complying with the time and location of all scheduled transportation, meetings, meals and all other activities arranged or provided by PSAC. Failure to do so may result in the termination of their participation on the trip and the forfeiture of all monies paid, as stated in the Cancellation Policy. In the event of the trip's interruption or other occurrences that may prevent the delivery of the scheduled transportation, lodgings or other pre-paid activities due to acts of nature, government actions, civil disturbances, or other failure of the contracted agents to deliver the scheduled goods or services over which PSAC has no control, traveler/participant will not hold PSAC liable for such interruptions or non-delivery of trip related goods or services. PSAC will do its best to restore such goods or services, but participant/traveler will ultimately be responsible for seeking redress or alternative goods or services from the responsible party or agent, such as airlines and travel insurers. This is why it is strongly recommended that travelers/participants obtain proper trip insurance coverage.

Trip Leader's Duties and Responsibilities: Trip leaders are non-paid volunteers who may nevertheless receive complimentary goods and services from the travel agent or other providers. As such, trip leaders are held completely harmless from the actions of any and all agents and their failure to deliver the expected goods and services to the travelers/participants, unless said leader can be deemed to have been grossly negligent in executing his/her responsibilities. Such duties and responsibilities include: (a) collecting and properly recording all payments and other trip-related financial transactions as a PSAC agent, for lodgings, transportation, meals, ski passes and rentals, plus any other trip-related pre-paid activities; (b) providing adequate and timely information on all aspects of a trip's schedules, itinerary, and all other facts or advisories critical to a trip's success and participants' enjoyment thereof. Any other services or goods provided by the leader are volunteered at his/her own discretion with no legal obligations or liabilities for providing such.

Payments: Payments by travelers/participants will be in the manner and currency stipulated in the Trip's Registration or Agreement. Except as otherwise provided, payments will be made in US currency by check (or, if so specified, by credit /debit card), and sent to the leader's designated address. Obligations in other currencies may require adjustments in their Dollar equivalent, for which travelers/participants will be liable, as stipulated in the trip's Registration/Agreement. All payments must be made on schedule and any balances settled by the specified date(s). Failure to comply may result in a participant being cancelled from the trip and all monies forfeited.

Unacceptable Behavior: Participants are expected to comport themselves in a civil and decorous manner, respecting the rights and sensitivities of their fellow travelers. Obnoxious behavior, intoxication, abusive language and willful disobedience of official rules or laws, may be grounds for expelling such participant from the group and trip.
